

THE AMERICAN INDIAN PAST & PRESENT

A Photography Workshop

Instructor: Scott Trees

Join us for a chance to photograph a selection of noted American Indian models in a variety of setups depicting their lives in the past and present. On a private ranch in Rye Colorado, under the instruction of noted international photographer Scott Trees, students will have the opportunity to photograph the models in a variety of incredible settings.

Dates for the workshop are:
September 23 - 25 in Rye CO.

Limited Space Available: $1000 For class content and for more detailed information, schedule and accommodations, contact:
