

UrbanBaby Daily

WWW.URBANBABY.COM®

April 11, 2007

Oh, Snap!

The day after he heard you were pregnant, your husband upgraded to the most expensive digital camera on the market. But the next Annie Leibovitz he is not – and you can't even figure out how to turn the darn thing on. Time to break down and hire a seasoned pro to capture those precious first months with your new family member. Here in the tri-state area, you've got countless to choose from, all with their own unique styles. Most sessions cost just a few hundred dollars, and if there's a mom-to-be you really want to spoil, many of these photographers offer gift certificates.

Jordan Elyse

Relaxed, natural photos – taken anywhere in the tri-state area, often outdoors – will capture your child's prevailing personality traits or the subtle, spontaneous moments shared between family members.